

Stephen Eni

Term on Council:
2015 - Present

Hometown:
Vancouver, BC

Current Community:
North Vancouver, BC

Inspiration

I have always enjoyed working with organizations that benefit our society and community. The Youth Get It Community Council assists so many worthy organizations, and I jumped at the opportunity to join.

Fun Fact

I am a big fan of The Simpsons, especially the earlier seasons in the series. Over the years, I have owned clothing, albums, books, artwork and DVDs related to the show.

What do you hope to achieve on the Council?

I hope to make a difference in the lives of our future leaders, professionals, and community members, while also learning from my fellow Council members and finding further opportunities for shared growth.

What accomplishment are you most proud of to date?

As one of my goals was to begin a career in banking and finance, I am very proud of joining Coast Capital. It enabled me to achieve my goal and be part of an organization that holds similar social values to my own.

Bio

Stephen is currently employed as a Manager, Business Banking with Coast Capital's Commercial Banking Group.

Stephen's current and previous roles with Coast Capital Savings and, before that, Western Oil Services have provided him with the ability to evaluate organizations on multiple levels, allowing him to make assessments of their direction, feasibility, financial strengths, and level of external advisory. He also has experience working with non-profit start-up organizations and multi-national corporations. With these skills, Stephen hopes to better serve the Council.

One of Stephen's personal goals is to provide youth with opportunities that further their advancement, personally and professionally. Stephen began fostering this goal in his teen years, eventually earning him an award for school and community service.

His volunteer experience includes roles with UNICEF Canada, Save Your Skin Foundation, and Coast Mental Health. He has also been a member, volunteer and held leadership positions with the Investment Club, African/Caribbean Heritage Students Association, and Sociology & Anthropology Student Union at Simon Fraser University.

Stephen enjoying a favourite pastime – cooking